

ENERGY AND TRANSPORT

Paremata roundabout by Margaret Jorgensen

The Pauatahanui inlet is the jewel in the crown so KEEP IT THAT WAY!

Efficient public transport to the suburbs. Cost effective connections.

Improve congested parking.

Car-pooling could happen better. There are simply too many cars.

More electric car charging stations for greater uptake of EV's

Make cycling paths safer – I have to use the footpath in some parts of local roads around the inlet.

Denser housing in the new area between Plimmerton and Pukerua Bay with greenfields.

Regulate for solar on ALL NEW HOMES being built regardless of “affordable” label.

More pedestrian access and more pedestrian only places and integrated transport.

Any new suburbs should have a walkway system as they planned Whitby development 50 years.

Transmission gully expressway will simply shift half the traffic to the other end of the inlet!
